

DRAW A CHARACTER YOU CAN REPEAT

Use pencil or import this PDF into your drawing app. Choose one simple character. Keep the head height, hairstyle and clothing details consistent. Print at actual size or fit to the printable area.

1. Build the head with guides

Start with cranium + jaw.

Wrap an eye line and centerline around the volume.

Turn those guides before placing facial details.

This diagram is a construction exercise, not a fixed style.

2. Draw two views at the same height

FRONT VIEW

SIDE VIEW

Try a four-head-height figure. Align chin, pelvis, knees and soles across views.

3. Change the expression; keep the character

NEUTRAL

RELIEVED

Three identifying features: _____

TELL THE LOST-UMBRELLA STORY

Original exercise: a child notices a lost umbrella, picks it up, then returns it to its owner.
Read top to bottom. Keep the umbrella recognizable. Draw the action before adding dialogue.

1. NOTICE

Show the child, bench and folded umbrella together.

2. ACT

The child lifts the umbrella and looks toward its owner.

3. RESOLVE

The owner accepts it; show the hands and changed expressions.

SELF-CHECK

☐ Action reads without words. ☐ Character details repeat. ☐ Hands touch the object.

One change for the next attempt: _____
